"Our $85,000 hotel is just completed," he said. "and we are proud of it. We have planted 10,000 acres of trees in the city since it was established; we have just floated $30,000 worth of bonds for a school house of twelve rooms and the building is going up. We have a population of 2,500, which is not bad for a town of one year. The outlook is all that any reasonable man could ask."

E. B. Critchlow, attorney for the townsite company, was in the city also on legal business yesterday.

READY TO START WORK.

Western Pacific to Be Pushed Both

Ways From Wells.

Elko, Nev., July 20.—Representatives of the Utah Construction company have been at Wells, Nev., for several days looking over the line of the Western Pacific surveys and providing for accommodations. They have given out the information that they are sure of getting the contract to build the Western Pacific from Elko, Nev., to Silver Zone, Utah, a distance of one hundred and fifty-one miles. They say that Wells will be the headquarters and work will be prosecuted both ways from there. William Darke of Wells, who is authorized to purchase all the draft horses obtainable for the company to be used in construction work, says the work will begin within sixty days. A party of Western Pacific surveyors under Engineer Frissel is running a line from Wells to Ely, and when they finish this they will be in charge of construction work on the Western Pacific.

RAILWAY AGENTS COMING.

Busy Day Planned For Tomorrow in Salt Lake.

Local railroad officials are making arrangements for the entertainment of 300 members of the National Association of Railway Agents scheduled to arrive Saturday. They arrive over the Short Line from Portland and will spend the day in this city. The programme here will include a swing around the city, taking in Port Douglas, a trip to the lake, including a bath, and an organ recital in the tabernacle. The party goes from here to Denver over the Rio Grande. They are they will be turned over to the Union Pacific.

Therein lies China's best assurance that little headway can be made regarding Manchuria without communication with Pekin.

Uncasiness at Pekin.

There are, however, elements at Pekin which are measy regarding the result of the Washington conference, and the Pekin government has reiterated that its apparent inactivity at the present moment is only tentative. Indications that Russia and Japan were coming to an

"Jim" Whitmeyer of Albany county, Wyo., was in the city yesterday renewing acquaintance with a number of old friends. One of these friends told of the time, many years ago, when Whitmeyer was sheep inspector at a salary that vibrated back and forth between $50 and $100 a year.

"Jim felt his importance all right," said this friend. "He went to the county commissioners of Albany county and demanded 1,000 letter heads and 1,000 envelopes in order that he might conduct his correspondence with some degree of decorum. The demand was honored. In those days printing was done not by the man who had the best political pull. In this case it happened to be a Dutchman. Jim impressed upon this printer the idea that he must have something appropriate and strong. He got it.

"In the upper left hand corner of the letter heads was a cut of a Shropshire ram about the size of a loaf of bread, and right above this was a cut of an all-seeing eye. All the way across the sheet below in wood type was the legend: "Jim Whitmeyer, Sheep Inspector, Albany County, Wyoming." All the way across the sheet below in wood type was the legend: "Jim Whitmeyer, Sheep Inspector, Albany County, Wyoming." Men who received communications on this letter head reached the conclusion that Jim was national organizer for some secret society. It created a sensation and made Whitmeyer the talk of the contry side.

"Later Jim quit the sheep business and took to mining. He sold his interest in a mine at such a figure that he has been on easy street ever since."

Whitmeyer settled the score at the rate of 12½ cents apiece by paying for the cloud of the property and the city of the contract and at least compet the reduced the conclusion that Jim was national organizer for some secret society. Word comes from the east that E. H. Harrimah is planning to invade the west again. The impression is that he will go over and inspect a good portion of the Southern Pacific, the Union Pacific, the Oregon Short Line, the O. R. & N. and the Salt Lake route. He is expected in Omaha on his way west next week, but nothing definite has been announced as to his movements. He has never yet been over the Salt Lake route, and if he goes this time it will be for the sole purpose of inspecting the Clark road. It is given out that Mr. Harriman will be accompanied on the trip by a number of important railroad officials connected with the different systems of which he is the head, and also a number of business men with whom he is associated.

The procedure necessary to secure lands in the Uintah Indian reservation is outlined in detail in a pamphlet just issued by the passenger department of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad.

All of the local roads are preparing to run large excursions from the various parts of the state for Barnum & Bailey's shows. They are also planning to accommodate a great crowd of land seekers at Provo during the registration and drawing for the Uintah lands.

The Reno Pressed Brick company has just received an order from the Western Pacific for 400,000 hard burned brick. No intimation is given out as to what use is to be made of the brick, but the natural inference is that they are to be used for the necessary buildings alons the line of the new road.

City Passenger and Ticket Agent L. J. Kyes of the Oregon Short Line says the travel into the Yellowstone is greater than ever before in the history of the road. The travel to the Portland fair is also much heavier than was anticipated, while the local travel into norther of the time of year.

They claimed the court could not attend the information, which virtually brought a new charge, and quoted authorities as well as citing prosecdure in the Green-Gaynor case in Quebec.

Several Cases Cited.

Frang Higgins, for prosecution, cited several cases, including that of St. John Dix. extradited for wrecking a bank at Bellingham, to show the amendment could be made, and was upheld by the court, the information being amended. Collins then objected strenuously to the admission of the warrant issued by District Attorney Byington of San Francisco and brought by Detective Gibson, claiming it was not properly certified. He held a certificate should have accompanied it, verified by the secretary of state, and advanced in support a case in which a similar objection was made and the judge then held the document in question had to be certified by the secretary of state and his signature certified by the British ambassador. He held the warrant was not admissible. Mr. Higgins said he would properly verify the documents he presented with the necessary evidence. Further argument was proceeding when the court suggested the documents be put in, subject to objection, and decision thereon given later. Detective Gibson was examined and he swore that the warrant produced by him was the original one and dul yauthenticlerk of the San Francisco court thereof and his deputy. He also identified Col

Mr. Higgins then produced the certificate of the California state secretary authenticating the documents which bore the California seal.

Collins objected to each document. After citing the flature of the charge against Collins, Mr. Higgins went on to read the deposition, which set forth that Collins had intermarried with Charlotte Newman and his statement sworn in denial of the maintenance action that he was not married to her was wilfully and corruptly false. Collins continued his objections, among them being an objection the evidence of Charlotte Collins on the ground that the person claimed to be less wife of the collection of the system of the system of the system of the person claimed to be less wife of the content of the collection.

Prospector Discovers Remains of an Unknown Man in Gulch Near Crescent, Nevada.

(Special to The Herald.) Crescent, Nev., July 20.-Dr. R. A. Mitchell of Crescent, while on a prospecting trip, discovered the remains man about seven miles northwest of Crescent last Monday. The bleached bones and an old pair of shoes, which comprised the find, were encountered in a little guich. Their condition convinced Dr. Mitchell that the man had died several years ago. Except the shoes, there was nothing in the way of clothing that might help to identify the remains and the condition of the shoes, which were dried and twisted, made them useless for this purpose. Dr. Mitchell carefully examined the skull and other bones in an effort to determine the cause of death, and finding no evidence of injury to the bones concluded that the man had perished from starvation or thirst, or, less probably, from the bite of a snake or poisonous insect. Dr. Mitchell believes the man removed his clothing before death, arguing that if he had not done this there would be fragments of clothing in the neighborhood of the bones. None of the old timers here has an idea as to who the man was. man about seven miles northwest of Cres-

PICTURES ON SHOW.

George W. Barratt Has Returned From Art School and Shows Work.

George W. Barratt has returned to his home in Salt Lake City from New York, where he has successfully passed a two years course in magazine illustrating. Mr. Barratt has studied under Edward Penfield, Louis Mora and Lucius Hitchcock, recognized masters of the profession. Some of his pictures are on exhibition at Walker Brothers' Dry Goods Co. The pictures, twenty in all, are mostly representative of the American man and woman. One, the sketch of a summer girl and a handsome man at the sea side, portrays strong lines, and good expression. The picture that received first prize at the close of school is entitled "Behind the Scenes" and shows grace and naturalness of position. There are several cover Mr. Barratt has studied under Edward ness of position. There are several cover designs that express richness and ability in blending colors.
